The Londoner's Guide to London

Macaroon Making Classes London

Quickly overtaking cupcakes as the foodie trend of the moment, macarons are the must-have snack for London's gourmet set. Colourful and delicate, the round little pastries are as pretty as they are delicious and although you can buy them in shops across the capital they're notoriously difficult to make. If you've valiantly struggled your way through various macaroon recipes without much success, have a go at macaroon making classes. London cookery school L'Atelier des Chefs offers several classes a month, suitable for beginners and macaroon experts.

How to Make a Macaroon

During the two hour macaroon making classes, London macaroon fans will learn various techniques demonstrated by the chef, from how to make the right macaroon mixture to how long to leave the macarons to set before baking. As the classes are interactive, you'll have the chance to mix the batter, pipe the macarons and fill them as well. Classes can hold about ten people.

For Macaroon Lovers

The macaroon making classes at London cookery school L'Atelier des Chefs are designed for everyone from total beginners to macaroon connoisseurs and will demonstrate how to make four types of macarons, such as raspberry and rose, honeyed chocolate ganache, vanilla and praline and salted butter caramel. After the macarons are baked and filled you can take them home to feast on later.

L'Atelier des Chefs

L'Atelier des Chefs offers a range of cookery courses designed for beginner up to expert cooks. Other classes include Dinner in an Hour, a four hour Grand Cuisine Masterclass and Cook, Eat and Run, where you make your own lunch and in 30 minutes and eat it afterwards at the school's communal table.

The macaroon making classes at London cookery school L'Atelier des Chefs run for two hours and cost £72. For more information, including times and dates, and to book a course, call (020) 7499 6580.
